Finding the value of electricity

Nowadays, cell phones and personal digital devices are a part of our culture. Everyone, it seems, is connected on the go — whether they're just making phone calls, text messaging or checking e-mail. Such communication freedom is a luxury we pay for, generally without grumbling.

All of the latest technology takes electricity to utilize. What used to be a luxury just a few decades ago, is a necessity in our modern world. We expect electricity to be there at the flip of the switch, and when it's not, we get frustrated.

I'm no different — I expect the lights to come on every time, too. And as the president/CEO of Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative, I have a special responsibility to make sure your electric service is safe, reliable and affordable. I also believe that when compared to other commodities, electricity remains a great value.

For example, over the last 10 years, gasoline has shot up 10.9 percent on average every single year, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. A loaf of white bread has increased 4.2 percent annually, and a dozen eggs 6.5 percent per year.

In comparison, electricity has increased just 3.7 percent a year nationally for the past decade. When you consider how reliable electricity is, the value goes up even more.

In the last five years, we have been able to reduce our average annual outage time per member by 60 percent. This includes all types of outages from tree related outages, animal contacts, equipment failure, minor storms, car accidents, and member caused (ie.. cutting tree into line, digging into underground service, etc.). We have also seen a similar decrease in power supply caused outages over this same time period. Holmes -Wayne Electric is working hard to reduce your outage interruptions, increase our service reliability and control costs through innovative technology.

Those cell phones I mentioned earlier? Nearly a third of all U.S. households have four electronic devices, such as cell phones, plugged in and charging, according to the Residential Energy Consumption Survey by the U.S. Energy Information Administration. In the last 30 years, the amount of residential electricity used by appliances and electronics has increased from 17 to 31 percent. More homes than ever use major appliances and central air conditioning. Digital video recorders (DVRs), computers and multiple televisions have become the norm.

Clearly, our appetite for electricity shows no signs of slowing down. So the next time you flip a switch, use your toaster, or run your washing machine, remember the value electricity holds. And know that we at Holmes-Wayne Electric are looking out for you by working together to keep electric bills affordable, controlling costs through innovation, and putting you, our members, first.

The power of human connections®

Community

This fall, line personnel from our West Salem district office participated in the Touch-a-Truck event at the Wayne County Public Library, Wooster location. This is a free public event for children to come to the library and see a variety of large trucks and public safety vehicles.

This educational opportunity is not limited to youth as many parents found the opportunity to be a valuable learning experience. The goal of the event is not only a learning tool but also an avenue to introduce the public to the valuable resources our local community libraries have to offer.

Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative staff not only gave bucket truck rides to participants but provided an electric safety demonstration.

“We love the opportunity to spend time in the community educating both children and their parents the importance of being safe around electric,” emphasized Kurt Detterman, Holmes-Wayne Electric Class A Lineman. “It’s also especially enjoyable to see the children’s eyes light up and smiles grow as they climb into the sky on their bucket truck ride.”

Class A linemen Steve Asbury and Bowe Firebaugh also dedicated their Saturday to educating the youth.

Reading your meter has its advantages

Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative has a self-read meter program. That means as a member/consumer of the Cooperative, you read your meter and report your electric consumption every month.

Did you know reading your meter saves you money? If you read your meter every month, you prevent a $10 service fee that is applied for every time HWEC personnel has to read your meter.

Did you also know that reading your meter on the same day of the month helps you avoid extreme high bills? If you are not consistent in your reading, you can create an electric bill that has 60 days of electric consumption or basically doubling your bill. Prevent extreme bills, by reading your meter the same time every month!

Miller re-elected

At the September district meeting for the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation in Baltimore, delegates re-elected Glenn W. Miller to serve a second consecutive three-year term as a manager-director of CFC. As the president/CEO of Holmes-Wayne Electric, Miller’s District 4 encompasses a four-state area consisting of Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and West Virginia. CFC is a member-owned, non-profit cooperative and the premier lender for electric cooperatives.

Electric bill skyrockets with space heaters

If you are planning on using a space heater this winter, you may want to think again. “Space heaters significantly increase your electric bill,” described Kenny DePriest, HWEC Energy Advisor.

“Unfortunately many residents use it as additional resource to heat a bedroom, garage or work room. The consumer thinks they are using a low-energy resource to heat their home, when actually it is a huge energy hog.” DePriest went on to emphasize, “your average space heater is 1500 kilowatt space heater. By utilizing this heater every day, you will add $100 a month to your electric bill.

“Every year, we have a few member/customers who place a space heater in every room of their home. For example: with six space heaters being utilized, the member/customer is surprised when they open their electric bill and see it has increased by $600 in one month period.”

DePriest explained, “There are many ways to plan for the cold winter months that are quickly approaching. Key to reducing your energy consumption is the insulation and sealing of your home. If your home is not insulated and sealed tightly you are basically trying to heat the outside. Also utilizing more energy-efficient heating units will help member/customers to manage their bill.”

Caulking cracks and openings can save you up to

$212 a year. Find cracks by waiting for a windy day and then carefully holding a lit incense stick or a smoke pen next to your windows, doors, electrical outlets and other spots where outside air may infiltrate. If the smoke stream moves horizontally, you’ve found a leak that needs to be sealed.

Experts recommend using waterproof, flexible and long-lasting silicone caulk to seal cracks and gaps that are less than one-quarter-inch wide. Remove any old caulk and clean the surface before applying new caulk.

Fresh caulk takes several hours, or longer, to dry, so it’s best to do the job on a dry day when humidity is relatively low and the temperature is above 45 degrees F. In addition to caulk, you can use low-expansion spray foam to seal leaks.

Holmes-Wayne Electric members are encouraged to utilize the many resources we have to help reduce and manage your electric bill this winter. Visit our website at www.hwecoop.com or contact Kenny toll-free at 866-674-1055 to schedule a home energy audit or review your consumption history.

Stealing electricity & meter tampering are crimes

Since August 1978, a revised Ohio law has been in effect covering theft of utility service and tampering with utility equipment. The statute provides that a person does not have to be seen tampering with a meter to be held responsible for such action. Prior to the revision in the law, it was difficult to prosecute a person for meter tampering unless the action was witnessed.

In addition, in prosecution for a user's reconnecting a device that was disconnected by a utility, such activity is now considered prima facie evidence that the user intended to defraud the utility.

The law defines theft of a utility service as a first-degree misdemeanor if the value of the stolen electricity, plus any utility equipment repair, is less than $150. It's a fourth-degree felony if the value is more than $150 or if the offender was previously convicted of the charge. Tampering convictions carry similar penalties.

Tampering is defined "to interfere with, damage or bypass a utility meter, conduit or attachment with intent to impede the correct registration of a meter or the proper function of a conduit or attachments." Conviction can bring from six months in jail and a $1,000 fine to five years in jail and a $2,500 fine.

Meter tampering costs all of us. It costs the cooperative, and it costs you. And, it's downright dangerous. If you witness someone tampering with their electric meter, contact your cooperative office. Stealing electricity is a crime, and anyone caught violating the law will be prosecuted. Holmes-Wayne Electric Cooperative is required by law to provide this notice to its members annually.

Did You Know?

Electric cooperatives have retired $9.5 billion to members since 1988 — $626 million in 2010 alone. Because electric co-ops operate at cost, any excess revenues, called margins, are allocated and retired to members in the form of capital credits.

Energy Efficiency

Tip of the Month

When buying a new appliance, check the black and yellow EnergyGuide label. This label provides an estimate of the product's energy consumption and efficiency. It also shows the highest and lowest energy efficiency estimates of similar models. Most major appliances — such as refrigerators, dishwashers, and clothes dryers — are required to have these labels.
